After the successful completion of the sanitation works in Bhattedande village, the management team of Community Health Development Society (CHDS) Nepal worked with the Program Support Committees of Arubot and Dandegaun villages to conduct a feasibility review, and implementation of the first stage of sanitation works, in their respective villages. Both villages are Tamang people.

Stage 1, the “model” phase, involved the selection of 2 households in each village. Of the 2 households per village, one received a biogas waste system and the other received a septic waste system. The construction team from Bhattedande - a group of people who developed their skills during the project in their own village - worked with the villagers, CHDS Nepal, and a local carpenter to build the waste systems and toilet buildings. The Nepal Biogas Company Pvt Ltd was used for the biogas tanks and systems.

The process was evaluated – issues such as program coordination, costs, villager involvement, suitability of the project in the villages, acceptance and use of the waste systems were assessed.

A plan has now been developed for a rollout of the project which in time will construct approximately 80 toilets for Arubot and Dandegaun.

This report presents the 4 households in Stage 1. You will see the name of the principal householder, number of people in the house, type of waste system used, formal handover of the key to the toilet building by a member of the construction team, and the donors who have been allocated to a household according to the amount of the donation. More information on the project generally can be found on www.healthabitat.com

WE THANK YOU ALL FOR YOUR SUPPORT. NAMASTE AND LASO!!
